

Harjit Hothi Appointed Pre-Sales Manager for Secerno

Oxford, United Kingdom 16 April 2007 – Database security solutions provider, Secerno, today announced the appointment of Harjit Hothi, to lead the presales team at Secerno. Harjit has extensive experience in technical security presales and consultancy, within all industry sectors.

Prior to Secerno, Harjit was a leading presales consultant at Qualys, a vulnerability management provider. Harjit's responsibility at Qualys was predominantly technical, focusing on the sales and implementation of the QualysGuard solution for the UK territory. Before joining Qualys in 2004, Harjit was a senior presales consultant at Ubizen (now Cybertrust), a provider of managed security solutions. Harjit has an Electrical and Electronic Engineering Degree, from Brunel University.

"I am very happy to be joining Secerno and working with such an exciting and ground-breaking product," says Harjit Hothi, Presales Manager at Secerno. "The technical ability of the product means that Secerno stands head and shoulders above existing competition and is best-placed to take the industry by storm. There is so much demand for a product like Secerno.SQL; I can't wait to get started."
