KDDI Europe Partners With Secerno for Managed Data Security

Secerno Chosen as Preferred Partner to Strengthen KDDI's European Services Portfolio

Secerno, the technology leader in data security and KDDI Europe, whose parent company, KDDI, is one of the world's leading telecommunication operators, today announce that they have partnered to provide Secerno's database security and compliance expertise to KDDI Europe customers.

With offices in the UK, France, Germany, the Netherlands, Belgium and Russia, KDDI Europe provides comprehensive telephony, security, outsourcing, networking, housing and system integration services to large global corporates.

Secerno.SQL will be recommended to KDDI Europe customers. In addition KDDI Europe and Secerno will also be offering a managed service, providing added flexibility and reduced capital investment to its clients. This is the first time Secerno.SQL will be made available as a managed service thereby offering a solution for every budget.

"Our organisation is built on total customer satisfaction, and our customers expect only the best," said Hideki Yamada, Managing Director, KDDI Europe. "With this ethos in mind, we recruit partners who can compliment our strategy. We have partnered with Secerno as they are "best of breed" in the database security vendor market, and this new service will undoubtedly give our customers increased peace-of-mind."

"It gives us great pleasure to be working with KDDI Europe, a highly regarded organisation with an impressive infrastructure, reach, and reputation for excellence whose business culture fits well with our aim to offer customers not only the most innovative products but also those which add security and robustness to any business," said Steve Hurn, CEO of Secerno. "The partnership also gives us an exciting new business opportunity to build our market reach into new regions and also the managed services arena."

Secerno will be exhibiting at RSA Europe in London between the 22nd and 24th October 2007 on booth 19.
